

Seaper Powers – In Search for Bleu Jay's Treasure (Book 1)

by Kim Cameron

If your kids love an adventure they will love the Seaper Powers series. But wouldn't it be even more fun for kids to see the movie? Check out this funny movie trailer and see the characters in action.

Seaper Powers, The Movie, is the first of many more to come! This adventure begins with In Search of Bleu Jay's Treasure, but will unfold into many more adventures with Emma and her friends.

*****

Title: Seaper Powers – In Search for Bleu Jay's Treasure (Book 1)

Author: Kim Cameron

Illustrations: Jason Albert, Rebekah Phillips

ISBN: 9781635877113

Review:

Emma and her parents are taking a long overdue vacation to St. Thomas. It was warm there and Emma couldn't wait to swim. On a site seeing tour on a glass bottom boat Emma looked at fish swimming and saw an octopus all alone in the tall sea grass. She waved and she was sure it waved back.

Oliver the octopus loved to play in the sea grass. He would get distracted very easily and often lose track of time. As the sun set, Oliver realized he was lost and being followed by a very large and scary barracuda whose name was Beazley.

Also in the water was Steve the starfish. He loved to hide in the tall sea grass from Beazley who was large and toothy. But he also hid from the fish at school who teased him about his bright color. Steve noticed Beazley lurking around an octopus and in an effort to help scare Beazley away he used his arms to stir up sand and created a very large swirl and the octopus escaped.

Emma visited the warm waters daily and finally was able to meet and talk with Oliver the octopus and even Steve the starfish face to face. She shared with them the story she heard from the hotel owner about the St. Thomas waters being enchanted and why they could speak to each other and the reason so many pirates hid their treasures there. She also learned that the treasure of the pirate Bleu Jay had been hidden and never found. Emma and her new friends make it their mission to find the treasure before Emma had to leave for home. Coincidentally, they do find one shiny coin. Do you think they will find the rest of Bleu Jay's treasure?